

LIBERTY BUTTON DAY SPURS LOAN

Bond Slackers Hunted as Campaign's Final Week Begins

CITY LACKS $45,000,000

District Must Raise $11,000,000 Every 24 Hours to Achieve Quota

It is a mistake to think that Liberty Bonds give only 4 1/2 per cent. They give 300 per cent. One hundred per cent self-protection, 100 per cent security, and 100 per cent interest.

This is "Liberty Button Day," starting the final week of the third Liberty Loan campaign to help win the Kaiser.

The cynosure of undimmed eyes and the dwelling place of an uncomfortable feeling will be the role of the man who ventures to appear unprepared by the "Liberty Button Day."

The Philadelphia (Third) Federal Reserve District must "see through" with more than $11,000,000 a day to gain the top and "go over."

Among the larger subscriptions announced today by the Liberty Loan committee are the following:

John S. Carruth... $30,000
Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co... 25,000
Mrs. John G. Carruth... 20,000

Total subscriptions received at the headquarters of the Main Line Liberty Loan committee at Ardmore today amounted to $1,750,836, almost three times the Main Line quota.

The Wayne district is still leading with $274,250, with Ardmore the close second, $269,900.

The subscriptions by districts are as follows:

Overbrook-Merion... $104,750
Bala... 120,400
Belmont... 100,000

If there is any citizen who doubts the word of the hundreds of speakers for the third loan drive today, he will not see the need for a Liberty Loan on the battlefields of France.

Wounded Soldiers Here
Twelve American soldiers who have been either maimed or wounded battling against the German advance in France will arrive today for the magic touch of convincing that citizen of his duty.

Driving into the minds of the people of the city the patriotism of the farmer and the resident of the small city, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo trains the farmers for their part of the loan and warns the cities that they must hurry to catch up.

The greater effort of the week will be to get the total of subscribers as well as the total of subscriptions.

Racquet Club to March
One of today's big celebrations was the march of members of the Racquet Club to the Liberty Statue at City Hall.

Bira Jolivet, French actress whom the late Charles Frohman stood on the deck of the sinking Lusitania and uttered the words that have since become famous—"Why fear death? It is the most beautiful adventure in life," spoke at the statue.

DEMAND RETRACTION BY PROF. M'ELROY

Faculty of University of Wisconsin Aroused by Princetonian's Charges

Madison, Wis., April 29.—Accused of disloyalty by Prof. Robert McNeill, a Princeton professor and member of the speakers' bureau of the National Security League, the faculty of the University of Wisconsin has passed a resolution expressing the "deep resentment" of the university and demanding that retraction be made.

In a statement in 1915 to the charge of Prof. McNeill, Governor Philip Charles, that Professor McElroy was actuated by spite, due to the fact that other patriotic speakers were able to receive a day's salary for their services while the Princeton professor followed Chief Justice John B. Winston, of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, and a leader in the work of the National Security League, has published a strong protest.

In connection with the charge of Professor McElroy, it is recalled that the main force of the University of Wisconsin's opposition, which has been used for several years for articles and the teaching of dynamics to the thousands of students attending the institution, has become the sleeping room of more than 400 students who are in the training school of the university. Special instruction is being given these men in shop design, gas engines and electrical work.

Until one year ago the main force of the government was used for political and important addresses in Madison, Wisconsin, by President Wilson, William H. Taft, Colonel Roosevelt, William G. McAdoo, James Bryce, the former British ambassador, and other statesmen who have spoken there. An honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon Count von Bernstorff, the former German ambassador, in the same building.

Market News Against Luxuries—Wants Freight Rail Free for War Supplies

Trenton, N. J., April 29.—If the railroads running through New Jersey are to be of any use to the war effort, they must be free to carry freight and not be restricted to passenger service, according to a plea issued today by the Jersey State Department of Agriculture.

"We are seeing now that time patriotism realizes its duties in every walk of life," said the department's plea. "In the food clothing, we are encouraging someone to work and use materials which are of great value to the nation."

Schwab, director general of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, will inspect the plant of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, in South Camden, either Tuesday or Wednesday upon his return here from Washington. An iron pot containing $15,000 in gold coins was unearthed recently in an abandoned well on the Isaac Shaffer farm in Lawrence County, near Hillsville, Pa. U.S. ARMY TAKES HOLDEN COMMANDERS

Building for Quartermaster's Storage

FELL TO BAN WASTE

Two war moves, affecting Philadelphia, were officially announced today.

One is the commanding officer of the Government of the Ford Motor Company's big plant at Broad and Lehigh avenues, for storage purposes. The company must vacate by Thursday, May 14.

The other is the appointment of E. Lawrence Fell, president of the Franklin Printing Company, as director of the commercial economy board for Pennsylvania, a branch of the Council of National Defense, to make effective the campaign against waste.

Reduction of store deliveries will be one of the chief aims of the new eliminator of waste.

Officials of the Ford company today began the work of removing all machinery from their building. It is a ten-story structure and has a floor space of ten acres, which will house Philadelphia-made products for the army.

With the exception of the salesrooms on the first floor, every square inch of the floor space is to be used by the Government.

Announcement of the seizure of the building was made by Benedict M. Holden, in charge of the quartermaster's depot here. Mr. Holden will leave for Washington some time this week to confer with General Hays on the company's plan of the depot here. It was intimated that other big buildings would be commandeered as the needs of the department increased.

The building is valued at $1,600,000. The adding facilities for ten large freight cars on the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, with the Pennsylvania Railroad, will be a great benefit to the convenience of the location of the big plant, led officials to their decision to utilize its advantages.

Mr. Holden's appointment to the general manager of the quartermaster's depot here is the first in a series of chief executives of such an establishment.

During the six weeks he has been in charge of the depot the output has been increased 150 per cent. Within a few months he says it will be tripled. Red tape has been eliminated since the new executive took hold.

Louis C. Block, manager of the Ford plant, said:

"The seizure will be altogether between the Ordnance Department of War and the quartermaster's corps. We have just given a contract for more than a million steel helmets in the Philadelphia factory for American troops, and are about to enter into a far larger contract with the Government for more of them."

Mr. Fell is working in co-operation with Howard Heinz, food administrator for the state and chairman of the food supply division of the committee of Public Safety.

"From time to time this office will put forth various concrete propositions looking toward the curbing and reducing of the policy of saving waste," Mr. Fell said.

"When possible it will inaugurate local campaigns to carry out these proposals."

He will endeavor also to reduce the number of C. O. D. orders, thereby insulating economy by reducing the number of returns and automobiles necessary to perform deliveries.

Mr. Fell made an appeal to public officers, chambers of commerce, merchants and associations to cooperate with the State to co-operate with him in bringing about the reforms which are in his care.
